

To Whom It May Concern:

This letter is my personal recommendation for Jack Hagler. I have known Jack for more than 10 years and can speak both personally and professionally to his character. I first met Jack when I enrolled my son in the Roswell Hornets Wrestling Program. My son is adopted and often children from orphanages have trouble assimilating in groups and activities. Jack saw that he was not connecting; he took an interest in my son and became a mentor to him. This experience helped my son be successful in that program and set the stage for his future successes.

I reconnected with Jack through his involvement in the Community and interest in Civic matters. I collaborated with Jack on several projects and he was always known as the person we could rely on to get things done. Jack is highly dedicated and dependable. In fast-moving environments, Jack demonstrated the skill and patience to be successful. He was able to pivot and change direction as needed as well as navigate through ambiguity to achieve the desired results.

Jack is a key team leader – he is a positive influence and demonstrated a strong aptitude to identify and harness the strengths of other team members. I highly recommend Jack Hagler for employment. He would be a great asset to any organization

Sincerely,
